Sales Tax - Refunds

Can a tax exempt organization make a claim for refund?

Yes. Organizations that have tax exempt status can claim a refund for tax made on a purchase provided that the original purchase was made for or on behalf of the exempt entity. If you are making a purchase for a tax-exempt entity or a government organization, you must use a credit card or a check bearing the entity's name to be exempt from sales tax. Colorado businesses can claim a refund if they discover they have overpaid sales tax. To apply for the refund, use the "Claim for Refund" Form DR 0137. This form can only be used for businesses and tax exempt organizations -- not Colorado state income tax.
